Welcome to Biel/Bienne

Dear colleagues, dear friends,

Due to a tiny virus, we almost forgot that our patients need daily medical attention and treatment for a multitude of reasons, some of which are related to infections while others are of an entirely different background. We all know that the perinatal period is a very vulnerable phase during life and that disorders encountered during this critical time period may have long-term consequences and may negatively influence neurodevelopmental outcome.

At the annual meeting in Biel/Bienne, we would like to present you different therapeutic approaches and interventions to support infants at risk of neurodevelopmental impairment and further discuss their neurodevelopmental outcome. We chose to focus on a subset of populations at risk, namely preterm infants, infants with congenital heart disease, and infants with neonatal seizures.

Go, have a look at the program with the different interesting lectures!

In addition, this meeting is a great opportunity to present your new scientific projects or interesting clinical cases. And then, of course, it's a fabulous event for networking.
